FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Swisslog Healthcare Awarded the 2018 Outstanding Large Business of the Year Award from Westminster Chamber of Commerce

The technology company innovating health care workflow and logistics operates its North America headquarters, Technology Center, and Automation Academy out of Westminster.

Broomfield, Colo. (April 9, 2019) – Swisslog Healthcare, a leader in transport automation and pharmacy automation solutions for forward-thinking health systems, has been recognized by the Westminster Chamber of Commerce as the Outstanding Large Business/Employer of the Year for 2018.

The award was granted in a recognition ceremony on Saturday, April 6 during the Westminster Chamber of Commerce’s annual Awards Gala. Consideration criteria for the award requires prospective businesses hold an active Chamber membership in good standing, employ over 50 persons, and shape the local economic atmosphere in positive ways prospective new residents and businesses value. Nominees for the award must also demonstrate a commitment to exemplary customer service, value innovation, invest in growth or actively support the needs of fellow Colorodians through volunteer efforts.

President of Swisslog Healthcare, North America, Cory Kwarta was onsite at the gala to receive the award for the company. “Swisslog Healthcare relocated to Westminster a little over a year ago. In that time, we’ve hired thirty-six new employees in our Westminster headquarters from the rich local talent pool,” remarked Kwarta. “A recruiting event held late last year far exceeded our expectations in terms of number and caliber of interested candidates. We’re excited to be part of the Westminster community, and look forward to continuing our prosperity along with fellow businesses and residents.”

“We’re so glad to have Swisslog Healthcare in the community. Their presence will continue to boost The City of Westminster and our local economy,” said Mayor Herb Atchinson. Westminster Chamber of Commerce President and CEO Juliet Abdel added, “We are so proud of Swisslog Healthcare. Not only are they an employer invested in growth and innovation, but they invest in building a better business community. Their commitment to employees, key local partners and customers is a testament to why they've been honored as the Outstanding Large Business of The Year.”

To ensure job seekers and organizations understand Swisslog Healthcare’s business focus and guiding values, the company places importance on communicating brand stories and product information through a variety of content types, using targeted social media channels to reach relevant audiences.
