

Jan Zuurbier Returns to Swisslog Healthcare as General Manager of the Medication Management Division

Broomfield, Colo. (January 23, 2023) – Swisslog Healthcare, a leading supplier in pharmacy and transport automation solutions, has appointed Jan Zuurbier as its new General Manager of the Medication Management division effective January 1, 2023. Zuurbier will drive the strategy and execution of organizational goals for the division.

“I’m eager to have a strong leader in this role who understands both our industry and our organization,” said Cory Kwarta, CEO of Swisslog Healthcare. “Jan has a reputation of delivering clear direction and mentorship for our team members and I know he will be a great partner to help me steer the short and long-term strategies for Medication Management.”

The Medication Management division of Swisslog Healthcare enables healthcare facilities in North America, EMEA and APAC to automate and manage pharmaceutical workflow, including preparation, patient-specific dosing, delivery, and storage. Swisslog Healthcare delivers operational cost reduction by enabling the redeployment of personnel to patient-facing activities. Zuurbier will assess the markets and dive deeply into the Swisslog Healthcare product portfolio to ensure the continued delivery of quality for customers and their users.

“I look forward to this new opportunity at a company I know firsthand is doing great things to help healthcare facilities deliver higher quality patient care,” said Zuurbier. “I am most excited to steer growth for our Medication Management division as we continue to deliver innovations that have a great impact on healthcare across the globe.”

Zuurbier has 30 years of international business experience in various industries, such as information and communications technology, telecommunications, venture capital, and healthcare. When previously a part of the Swisslog Healthcare team, Zuurbier served as the Head of Business Development from 2019-2021. He played a significant role in operational excellence and change management projects for EMEA & APAC and supported in executing strategic projects. Additionally, Zuurbier is experienced in general management, commercial, strategy, and operational leadership roles for large and mid-size corporations, such as AT&T, Twinning Corporation, Lucent Technologies, Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise (ALE), and DIH. Zuurbier most recently worked with VMI, where he was leading the Pharma unit.

Based in Switzerland, Zuurbier has lived and worked in several countries, including the US, the Middle East, China, and Europe.
